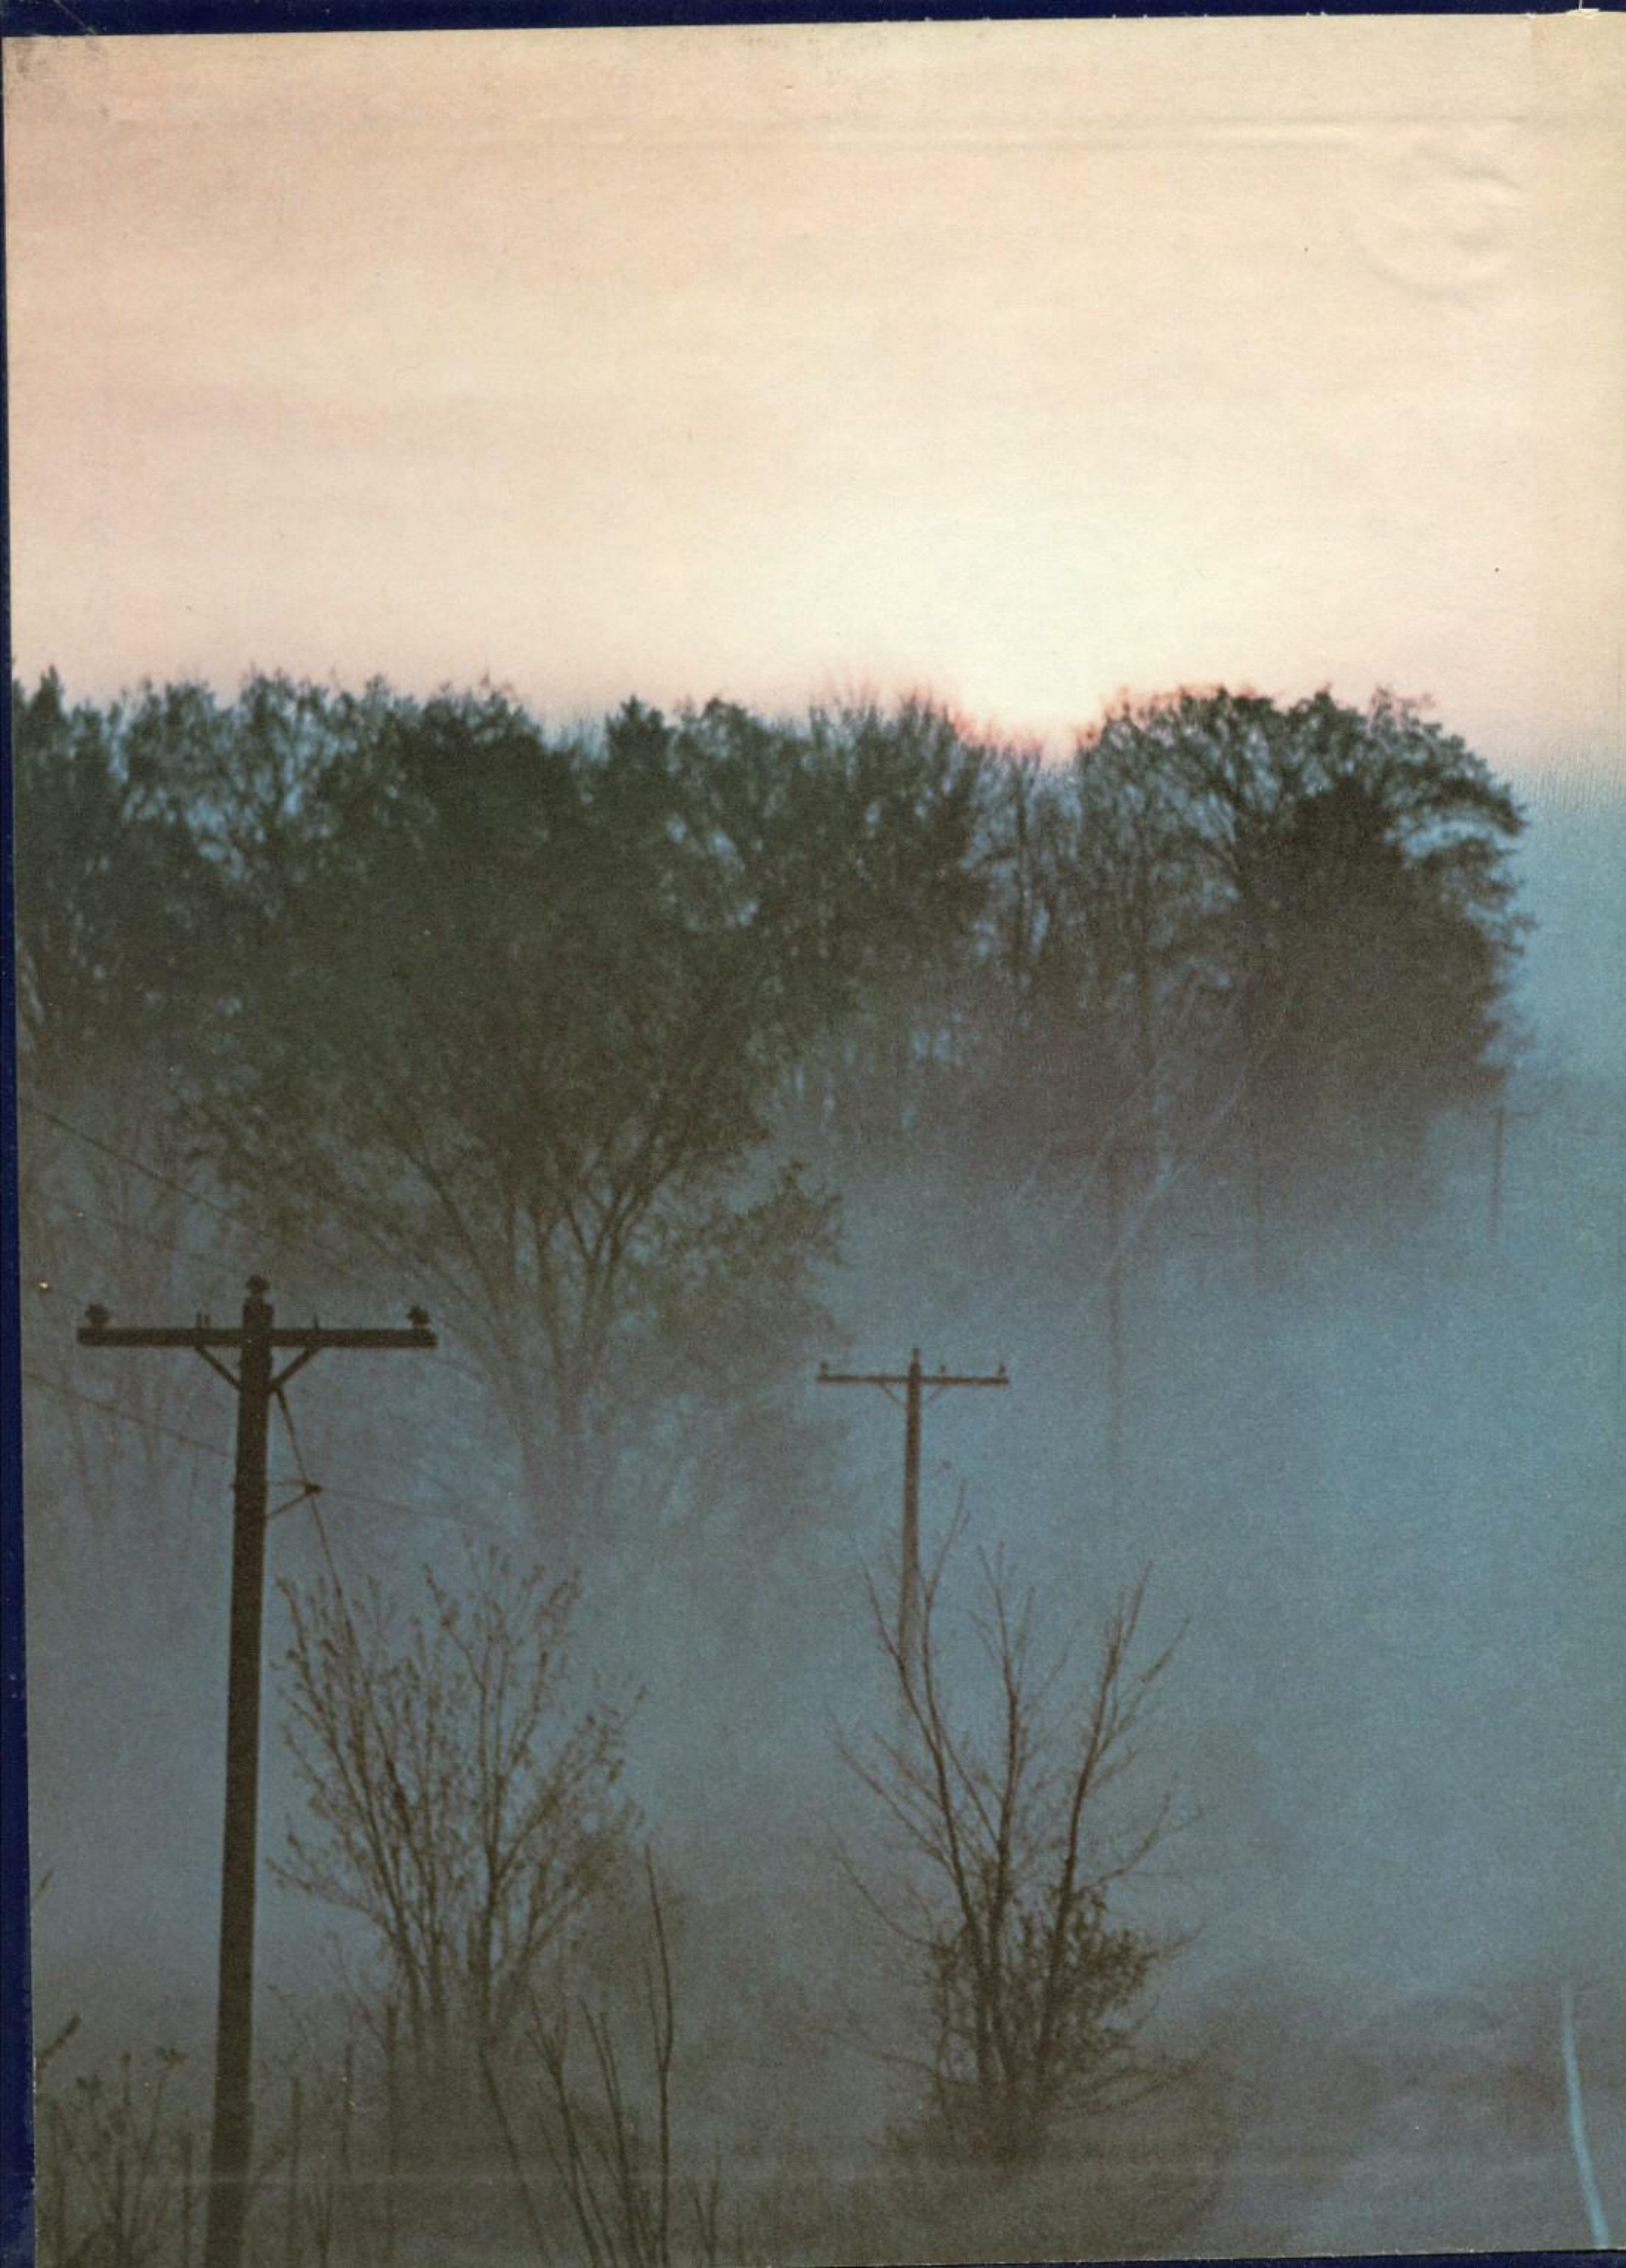
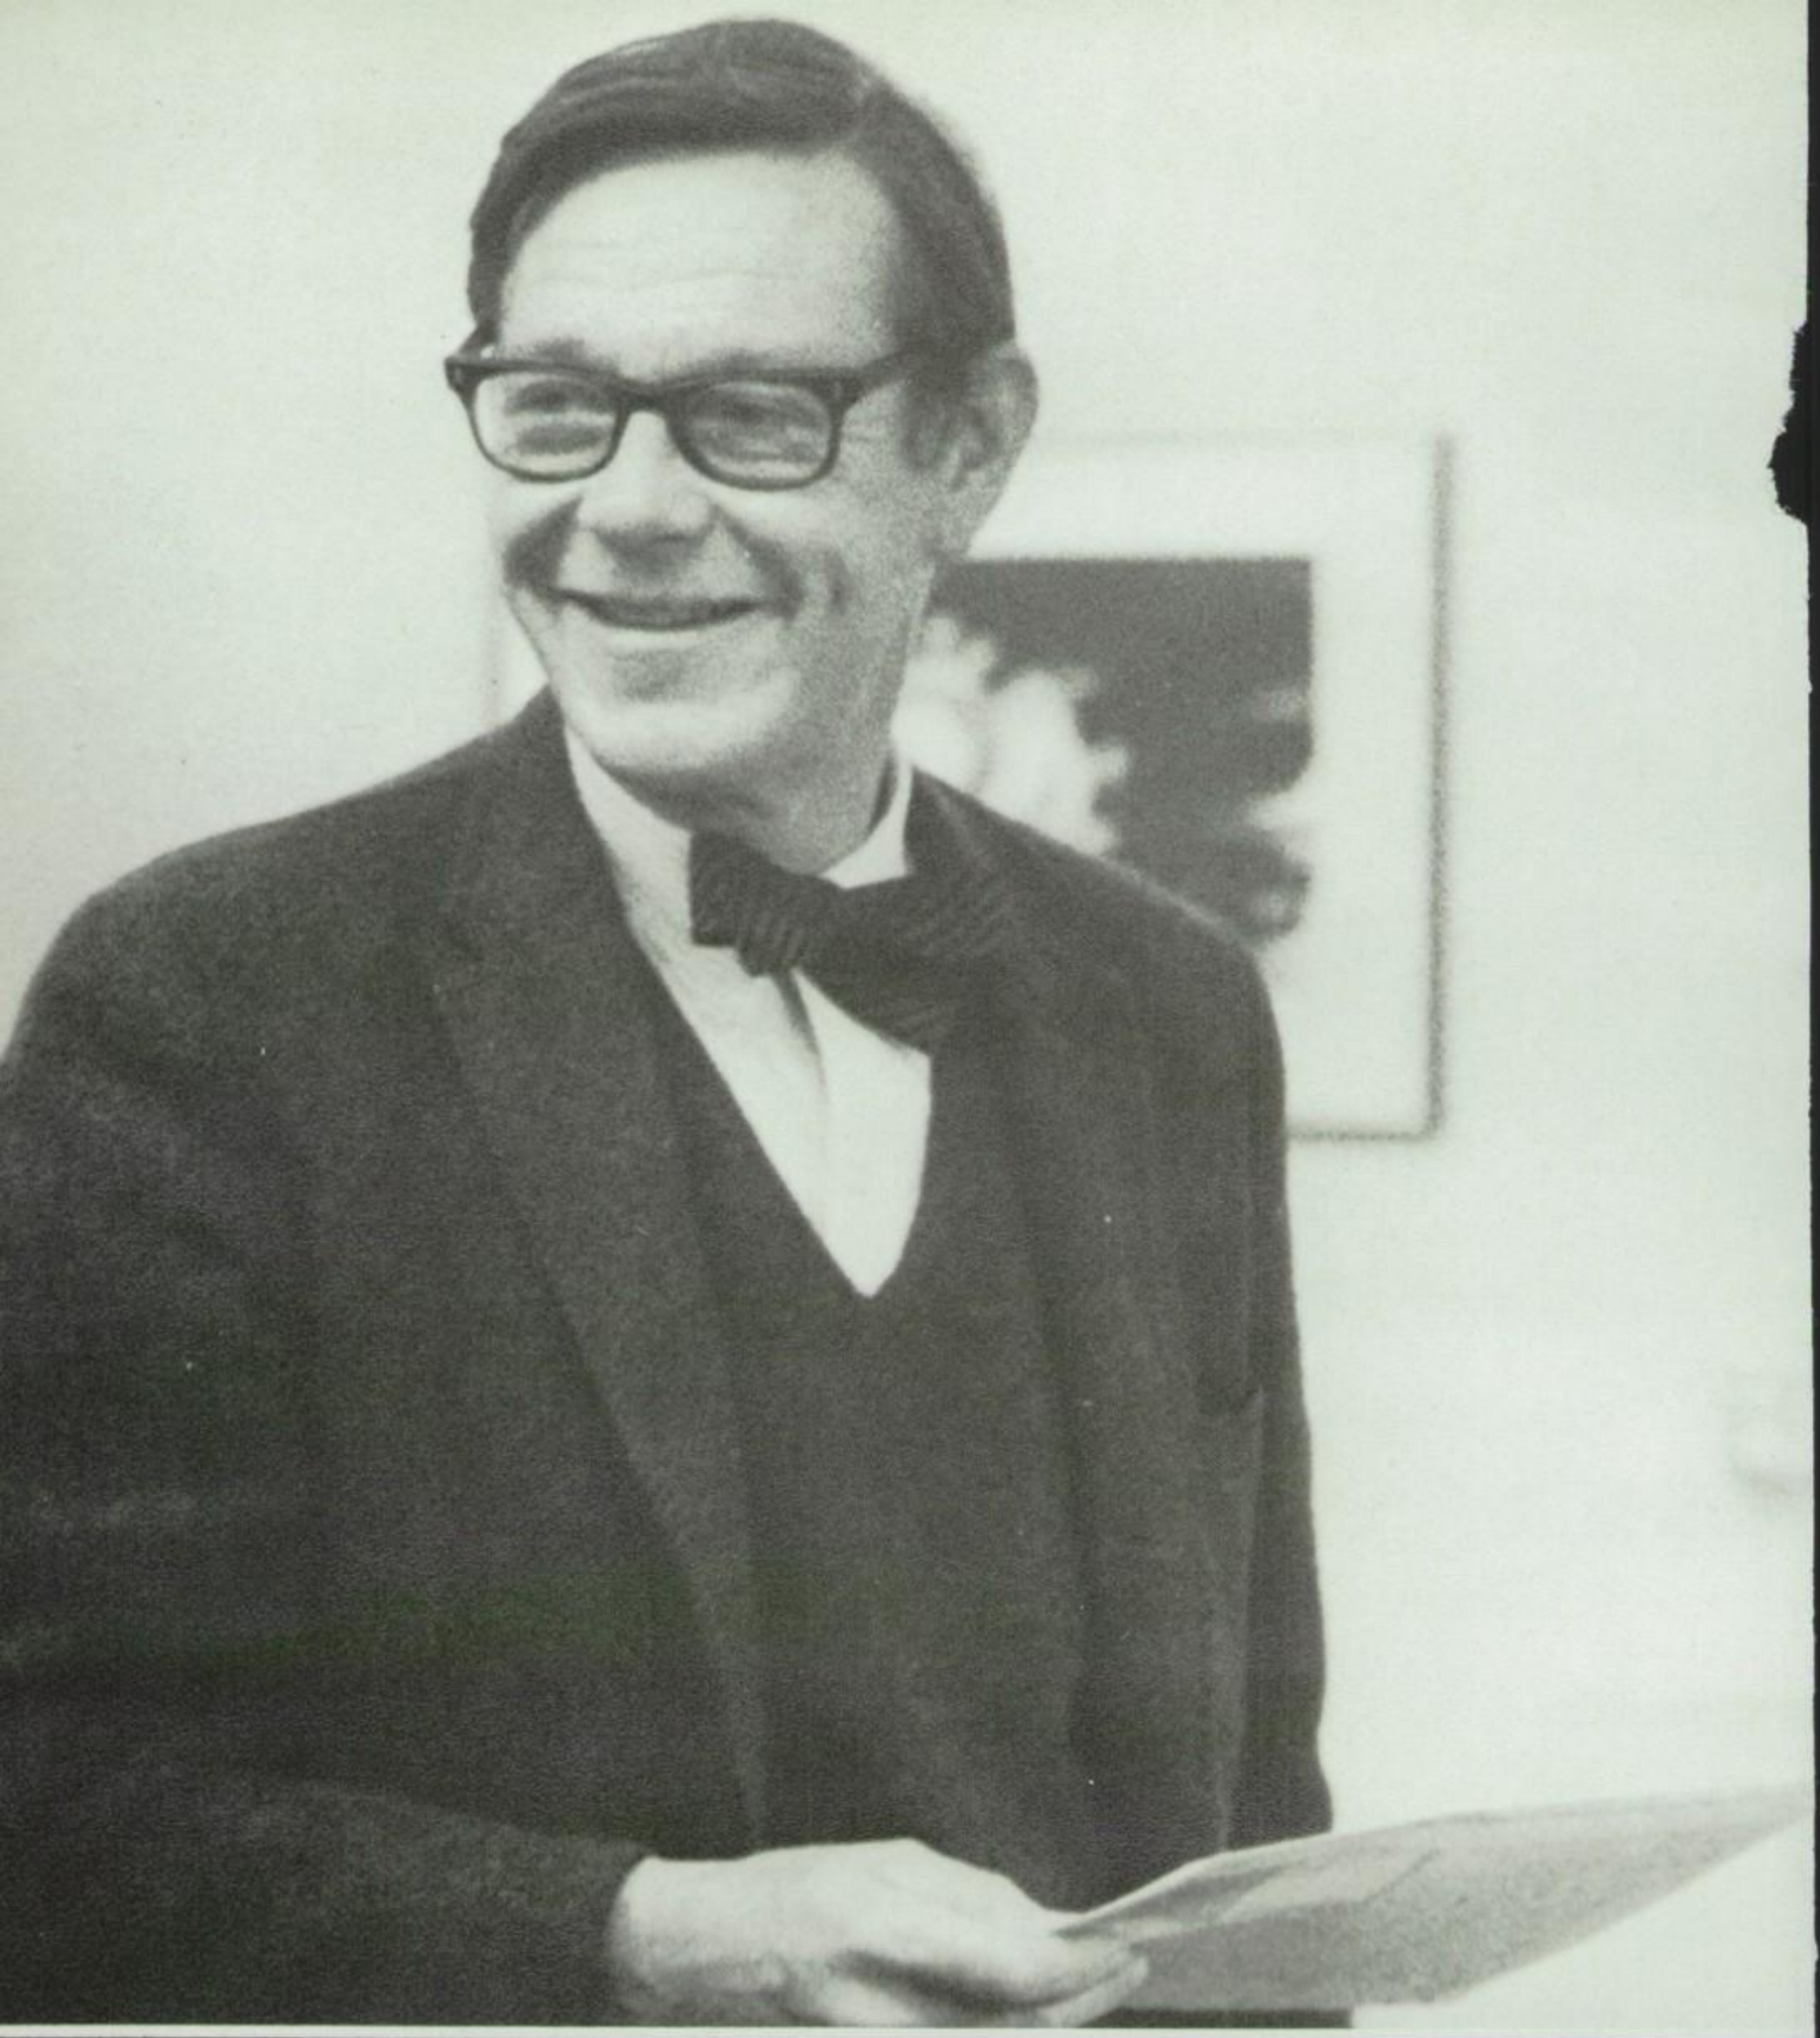
TYKOE - 1975

MIMI CAMPBELL



The cover symbolizes the strength and compassion that is given by the father to his daughter and son. The individualistic force of the parent protects and consoles, yet at the same time provides freedom for individual development. This picture also clearly depicts the same qualities we have here at Bush. The school is represented by the father, and the students are his children. The students are given academic instruction, but still are allowed individual growth. Furthermore, this individualism is characterized in our school by diversity, involvement, and unity; these are our strengthening qualities. Then there are the more relaxed and spontaneous qualities: freedom, easygoingness, and creativity. In this year's Tykoe we are expressing this theme, so very much a part of The Bush School.



Mr. Taylor, English teacher and college counselor at Bush since 1972, exemplifies the theme of this year's annual, individuality. His humor and patience have livened up assemblies and pacified anxious seniors. But foremost, Mr. Taylor's original way of presenting material in class, his dramatic monologues, and his frequent literary allusions mark him as a unique human being. It is for these qualities that we are affectionately dedicating the 1974/1975 Tykoe to Mr. George Tent Trailer.

Mr. James May has advised Tykoe for the past two years. This year's staff would like to thank him for his help in producing the annual, a difficult task. He has prodded us when we have been late or behind schedule. When we have become frustrated or upset, he has consoled and encouraged us. But most important, he has been there when we needed him, despite his other reponsibilities. He has always stressed that this should be our Tykoe; we feel it truly is. But Mr. May, grinning from his creaky rocking chair in room 9, is inherently as much a part of Tykoe as this year's staff. Whether this is made clear or not, we appreciate him.

The wilderness program has been at Bush for two years. This program is active all year, which gives it a broad area of activities to cover. There have been numerous cross country ski trips and hikes. Students have reacted favorably to the program.

For the past two years Mr. Ellis and six other students from the upper school have been planning a fifteen month bike trip around the world. Students have been taking Near/Far Eastern History, First Aid and various Eastern languages. A bike class was required and students did independent projects in diseases or photography. This June their journey will begin.

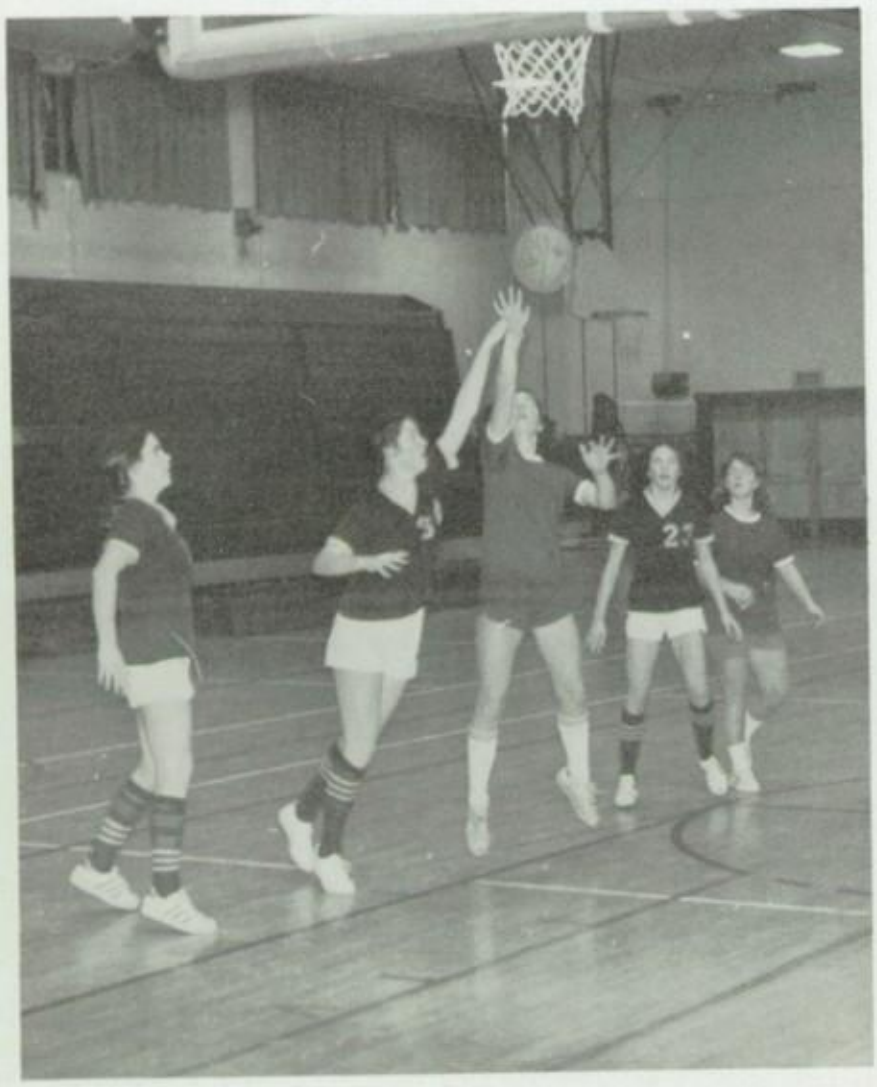
The majority of the volleyball team this year is new, but they tried hard and had fun. We hope more people will play next year!

Soccer

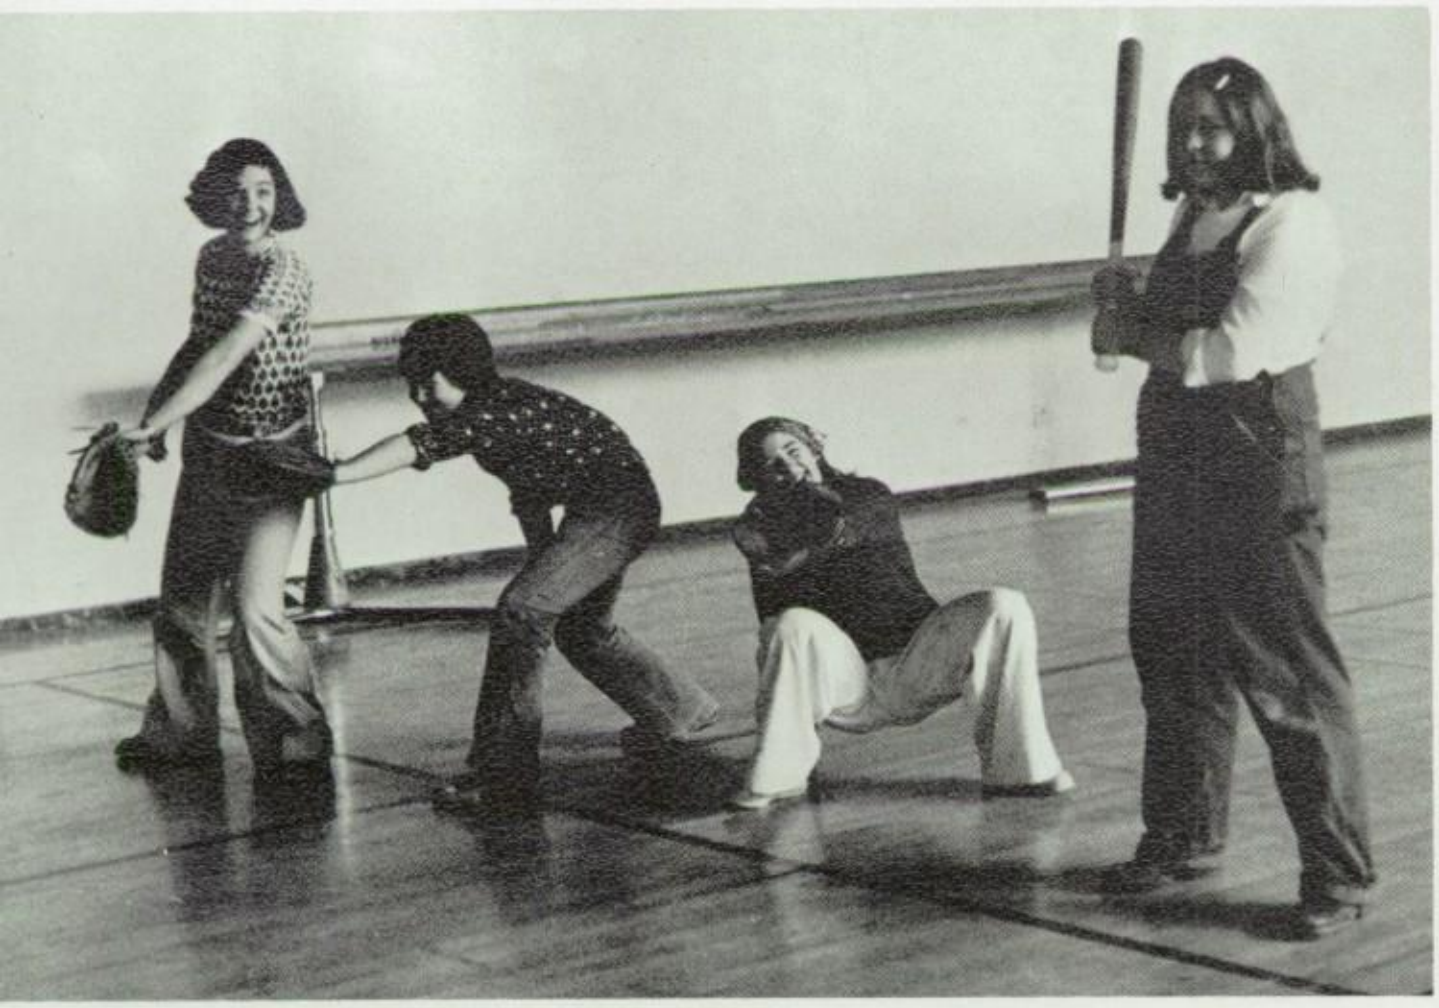
The Bush soccer teams were very young and limited in actual competition. They competed against varsity teams of other schools, and despite the obvious disparity of age and size, they had tremendous spirit and hustle. They supported each other and really worked as a team.



Basketball

Softball

"Geez - rain in the gym?"



Speak loudly and carry a small stick!

Got a sticky wicket, Bunky?

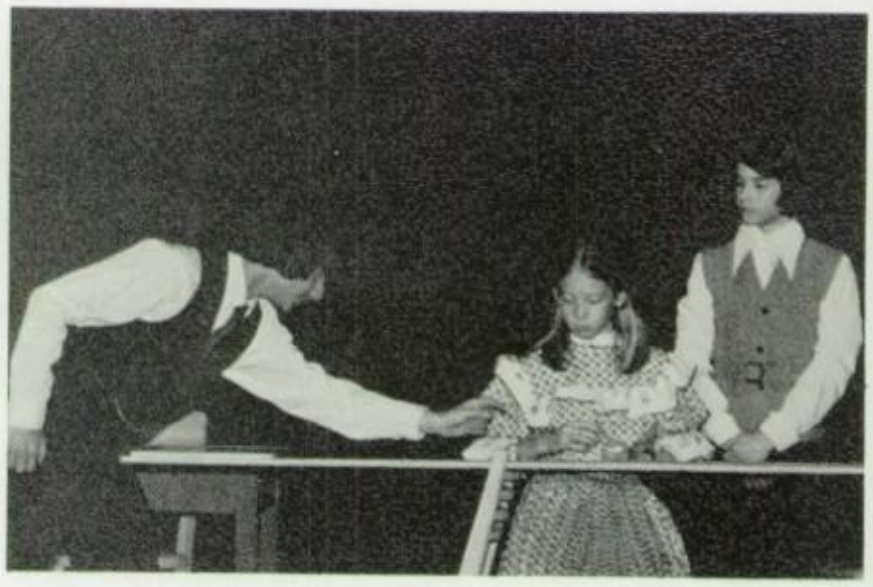
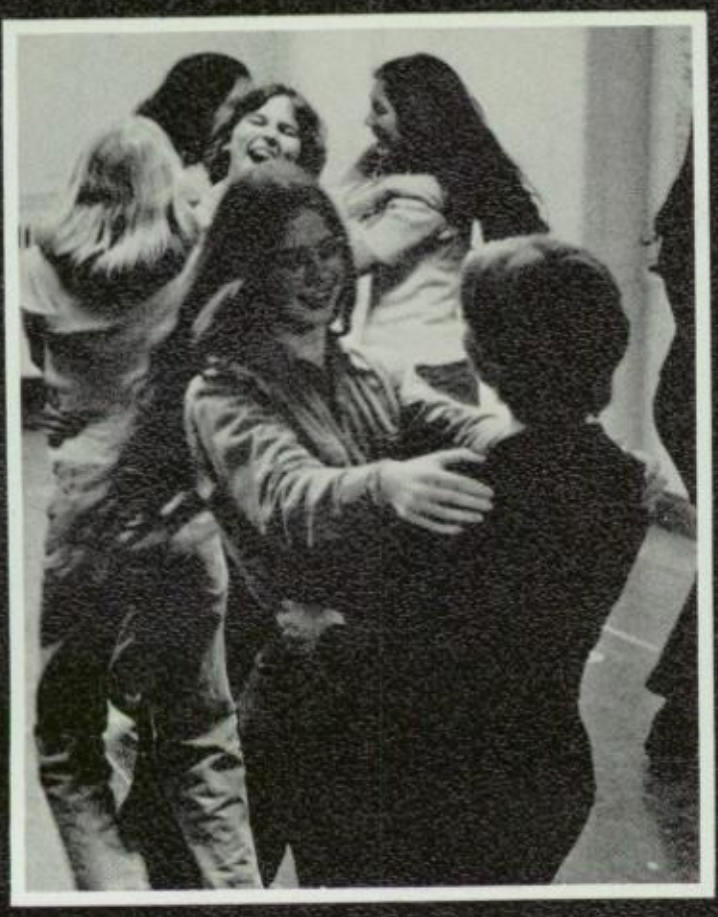
FINE ARTS

Merry Christmas

Drama was very important this year. Christmas was spoofed in "A Partridge in a Pear Tree". "Our Town", the eighth grade play, asked the people to reflect on the simple things in life. "A Mid-summer Night's Dream" involved upper school students and faculty in a lively presentation of mirth and love.



Drama

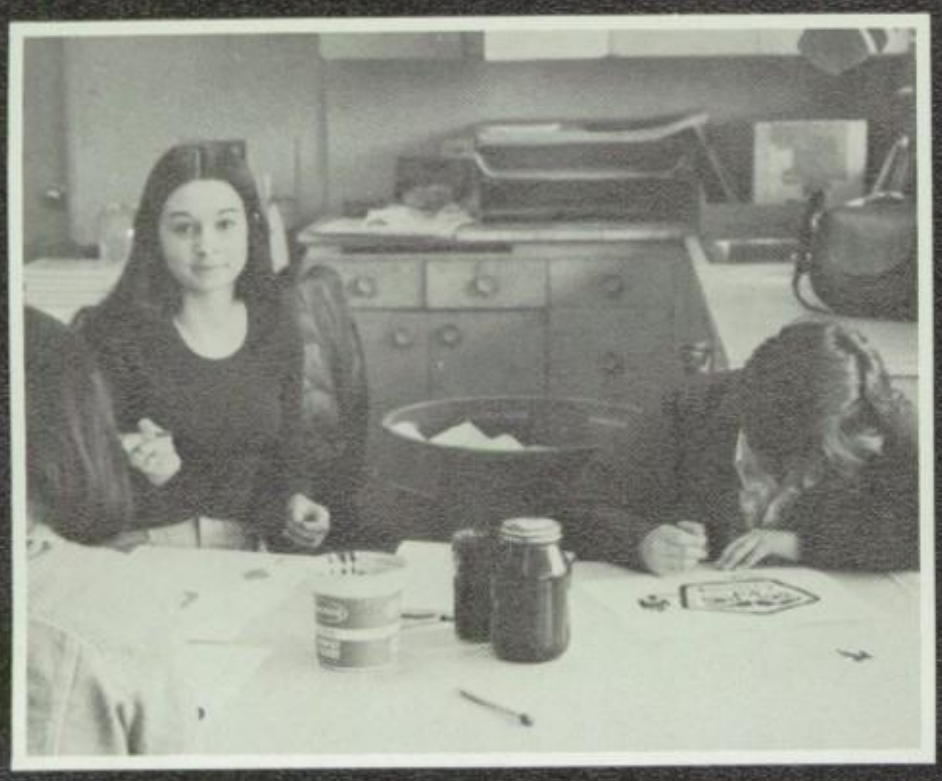


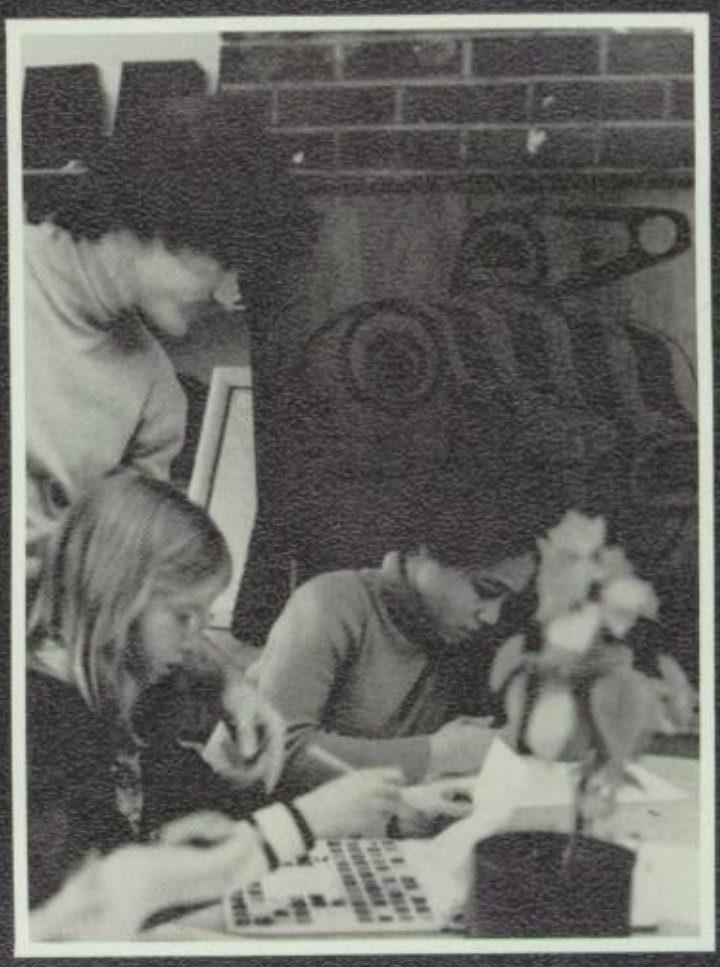
Dance

Dance at Bush was creative, innovative and fun. Folk dance stressed European culture, music and native dress. Modern dance, in both style and form, emphasized movement, choreography, and working as a group. Performances were given at the corporation meeting, Christmas program, and at assemblies. Dance, in its stress on creativity, provides a valuable compliment to academics.

Ensemble

Chorus





Faculty

The senior class of 1975 would like to express their gratitude to the Bush School faculty. Aside from teaching us academics, they have been good friends. They have given us personal advice; they have involved themselves in student activities such as retreats, car washes, and dances. Each faculty member possesses his or her own special, unique individuality, and we thank them for sharing this special quality with us.

1975

If you cannot understand that there is something in man which responds to the challenge of this mountain and goes out to meet it, that the struggle is the struggle of life itself upward and forever upward, then you won't see why we go. What we get from this adventure is just sheer joy. And joy is, after all, the end of life. We eat and make money to be able to enjoy life. That is what life means and what life is for.

-George Leigh Mallory-

I can't light no more of your darkness. All my pictures seem to fade to black and white. I'm growing tired and time stands still before me. Frozen here on the ladder of my life.

-Bernie Taupin-

Abbie Ormsby

Goodbye for now, and if you ever see me again, remember to wave because I may not be looking in your direction.

sheri stephens

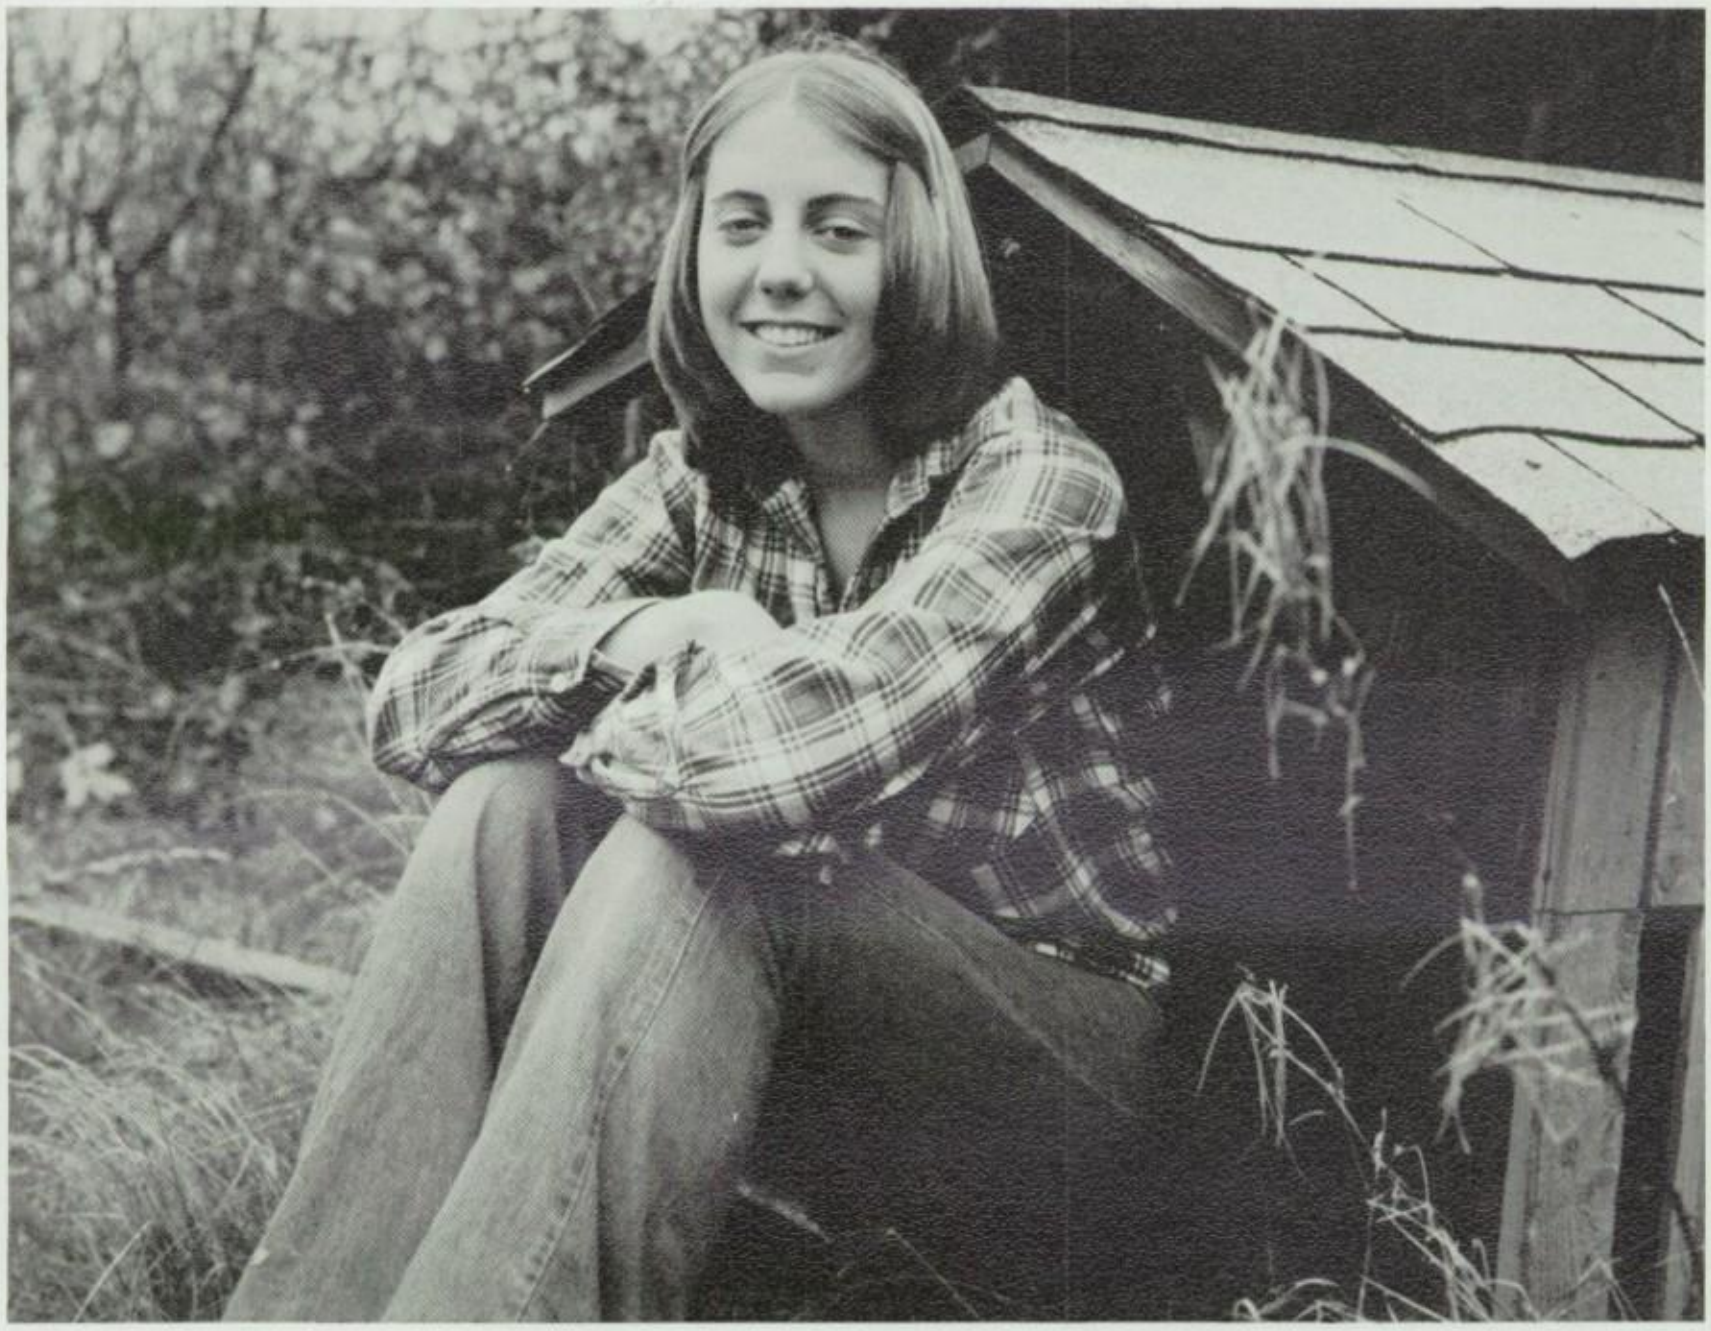
Your seed shall live in my body and the buds of your tomorrow shall blossom in my heart.

-The Prophet-

The preacher said I was born this way
With a storm cloud in my heart
Hold back the water
I gotta find time to burn.

-Bachman Turner Overdrive-

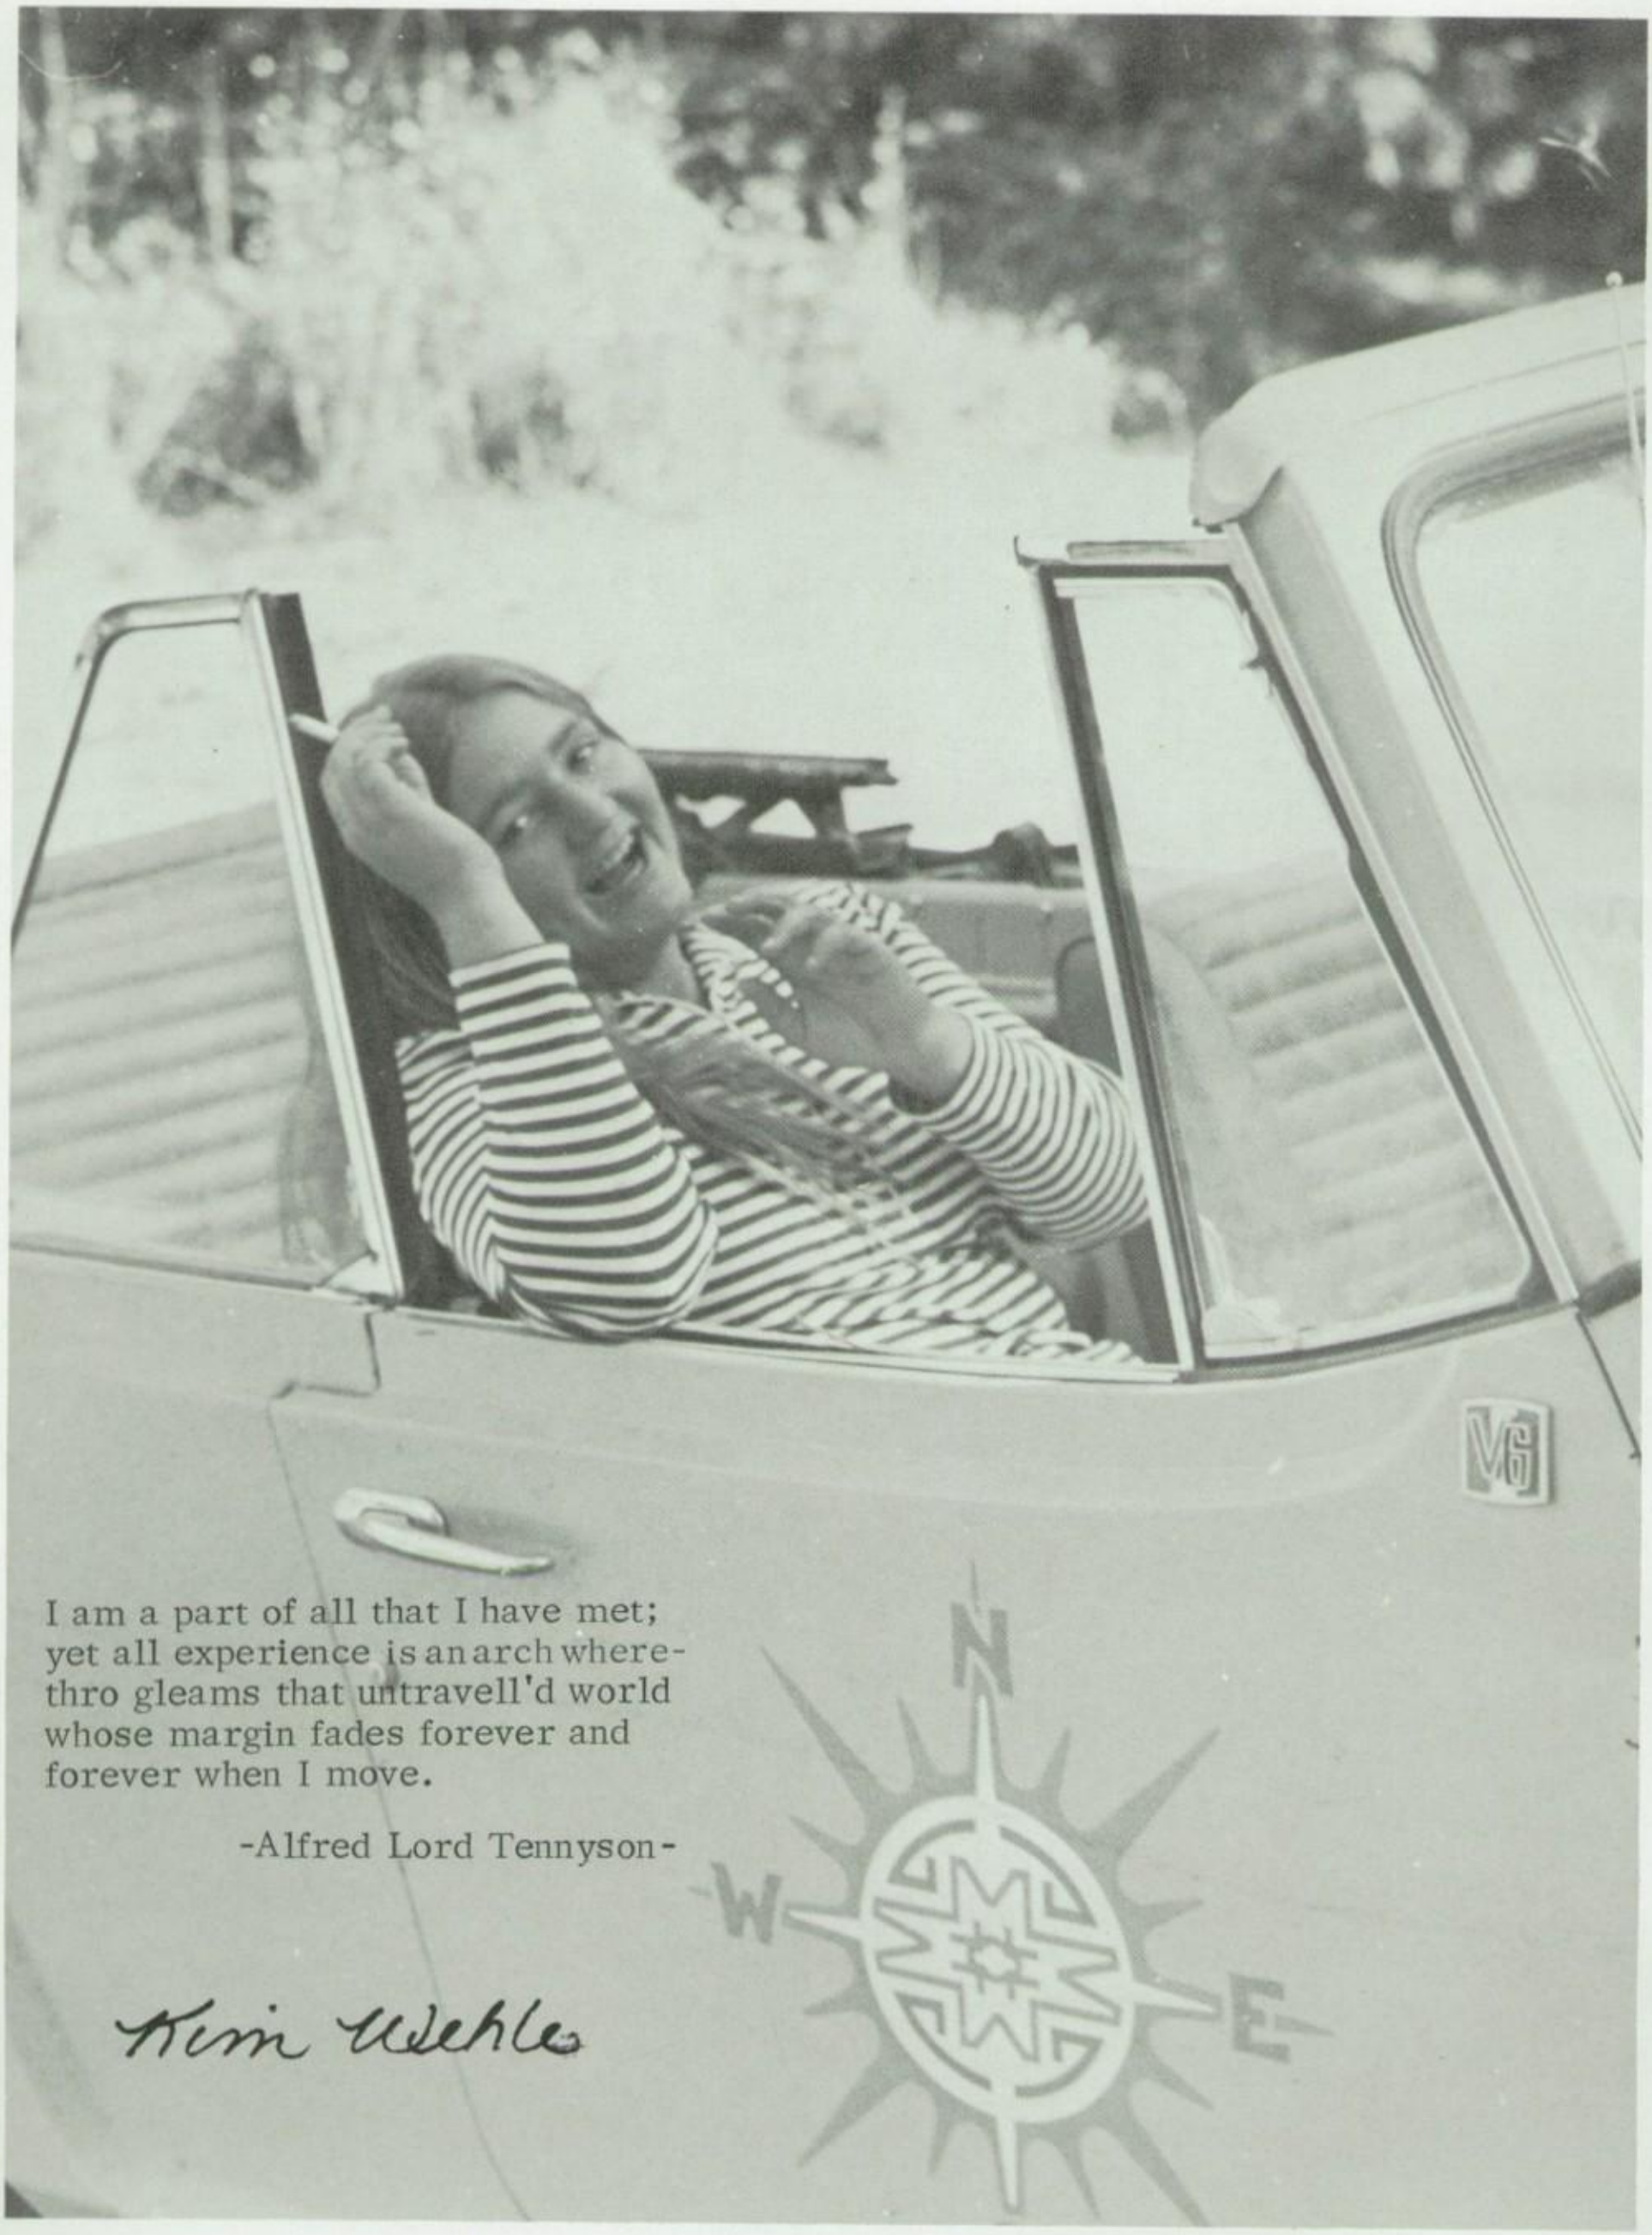
Ronald Robson



Those lovely horses-bound for a celestial pasture... I wonder how a man can know what a horse feels like when it is very happy; and that sculptor must have known or he couldn't have carved them so.

-John Steinbeck-

Debbie LaZerte



I am a part of all that I have met;
yet all experience is an arch where-thro gleams that untravell'd world whose margin fades forever and forever when I move.

-Alfred Lord Tennyson-

Kim Wehle

Man walks in the direction towards which he looks, and where his treasure is, there will his heart be also.

-Mary Baker Eddy-

Stacy Meister

The leaves have fallen all around
It's time I was on my way
Thanks to you I'm much obliged
It was such a pleasant stay
But now it's time for me to go
The autumn lights my way
But now I smell the rain and with it
Came and it's headed my way
Oh, sometimes I grow so tired
But now I've got one thing to do
Ramble on, now's the time, the time is now
Sing my song, I'm going around the world
I got to find my girl on my way
I've been this way ten years to the day
Ramble on.

-Robert Plant-

Matt Rice

Every movement has a voice.

-Charles Bennett-

Nikki Blanco

Suffering produces endurance
Endurance produces character
Character produces hope and Hope does not disappoint us.

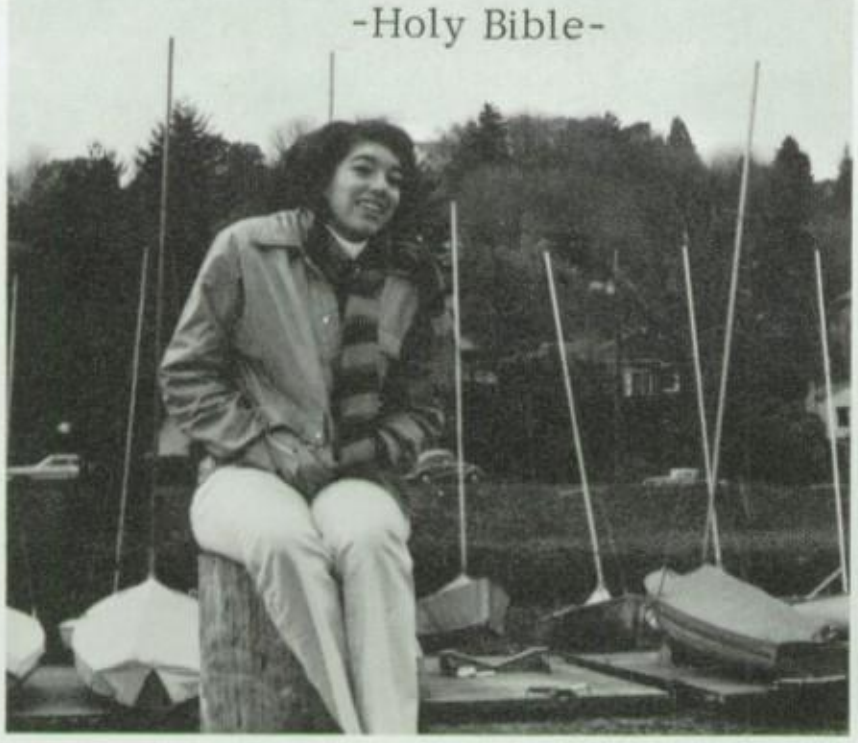
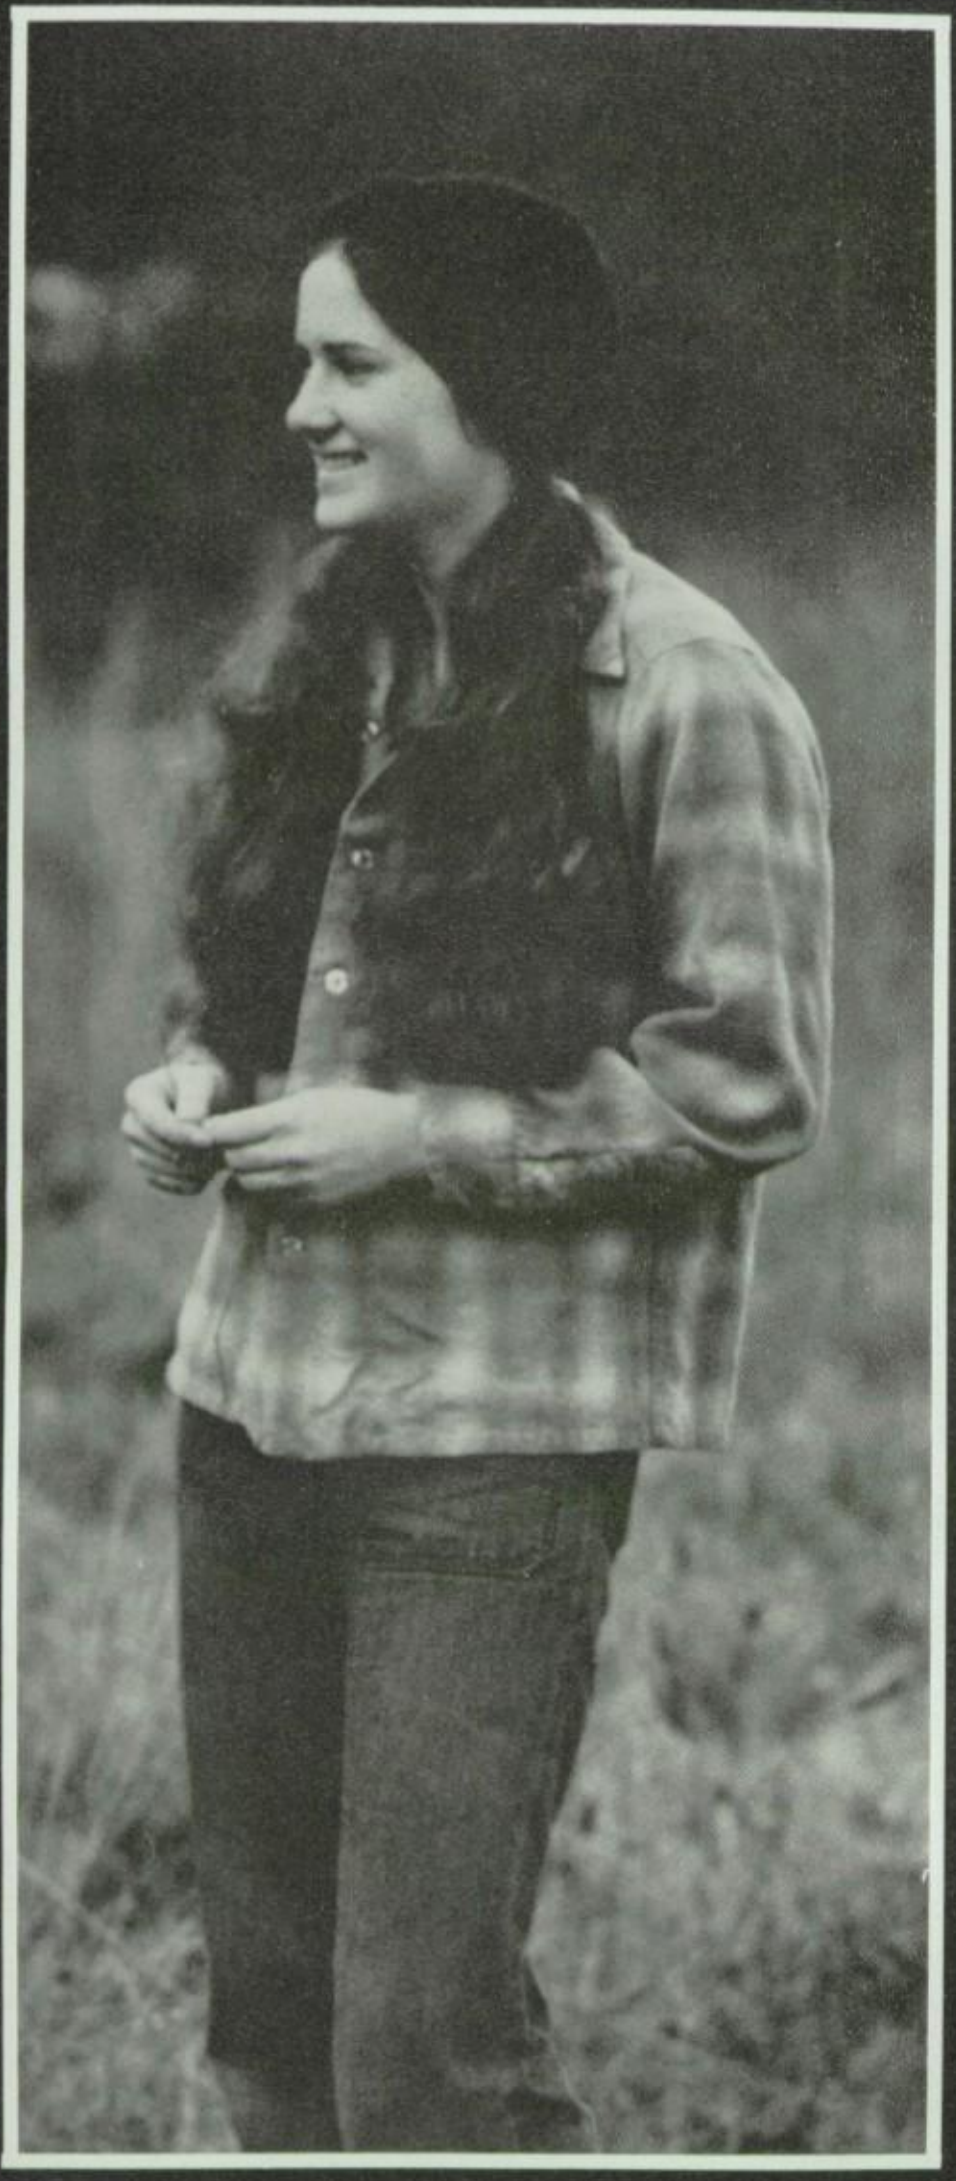
-Holy Bible-

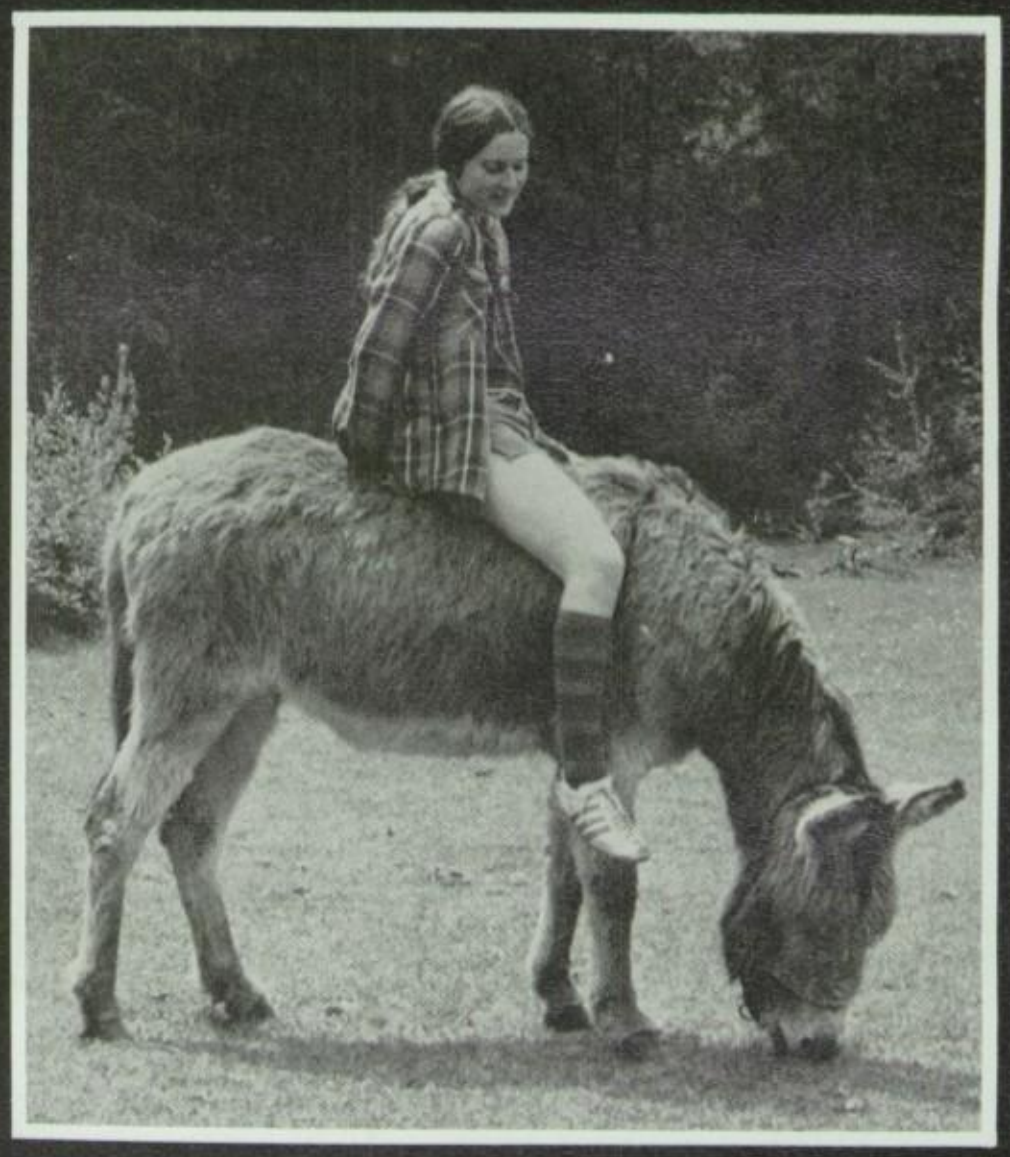


When you walk through a storm hold your head up high and don't be afraid of the dark. At the end of the storm is a golden sky and the sweet silver song of the lark. Walk on, walk on with hope in your heart and you'll never walk alone.

-R. & H.-

Nardine M. Burnell





Close not your door on life.
Life is the bright outside,
The sun and happiness....
Lock not your door on life:
Keys are too easily lost.

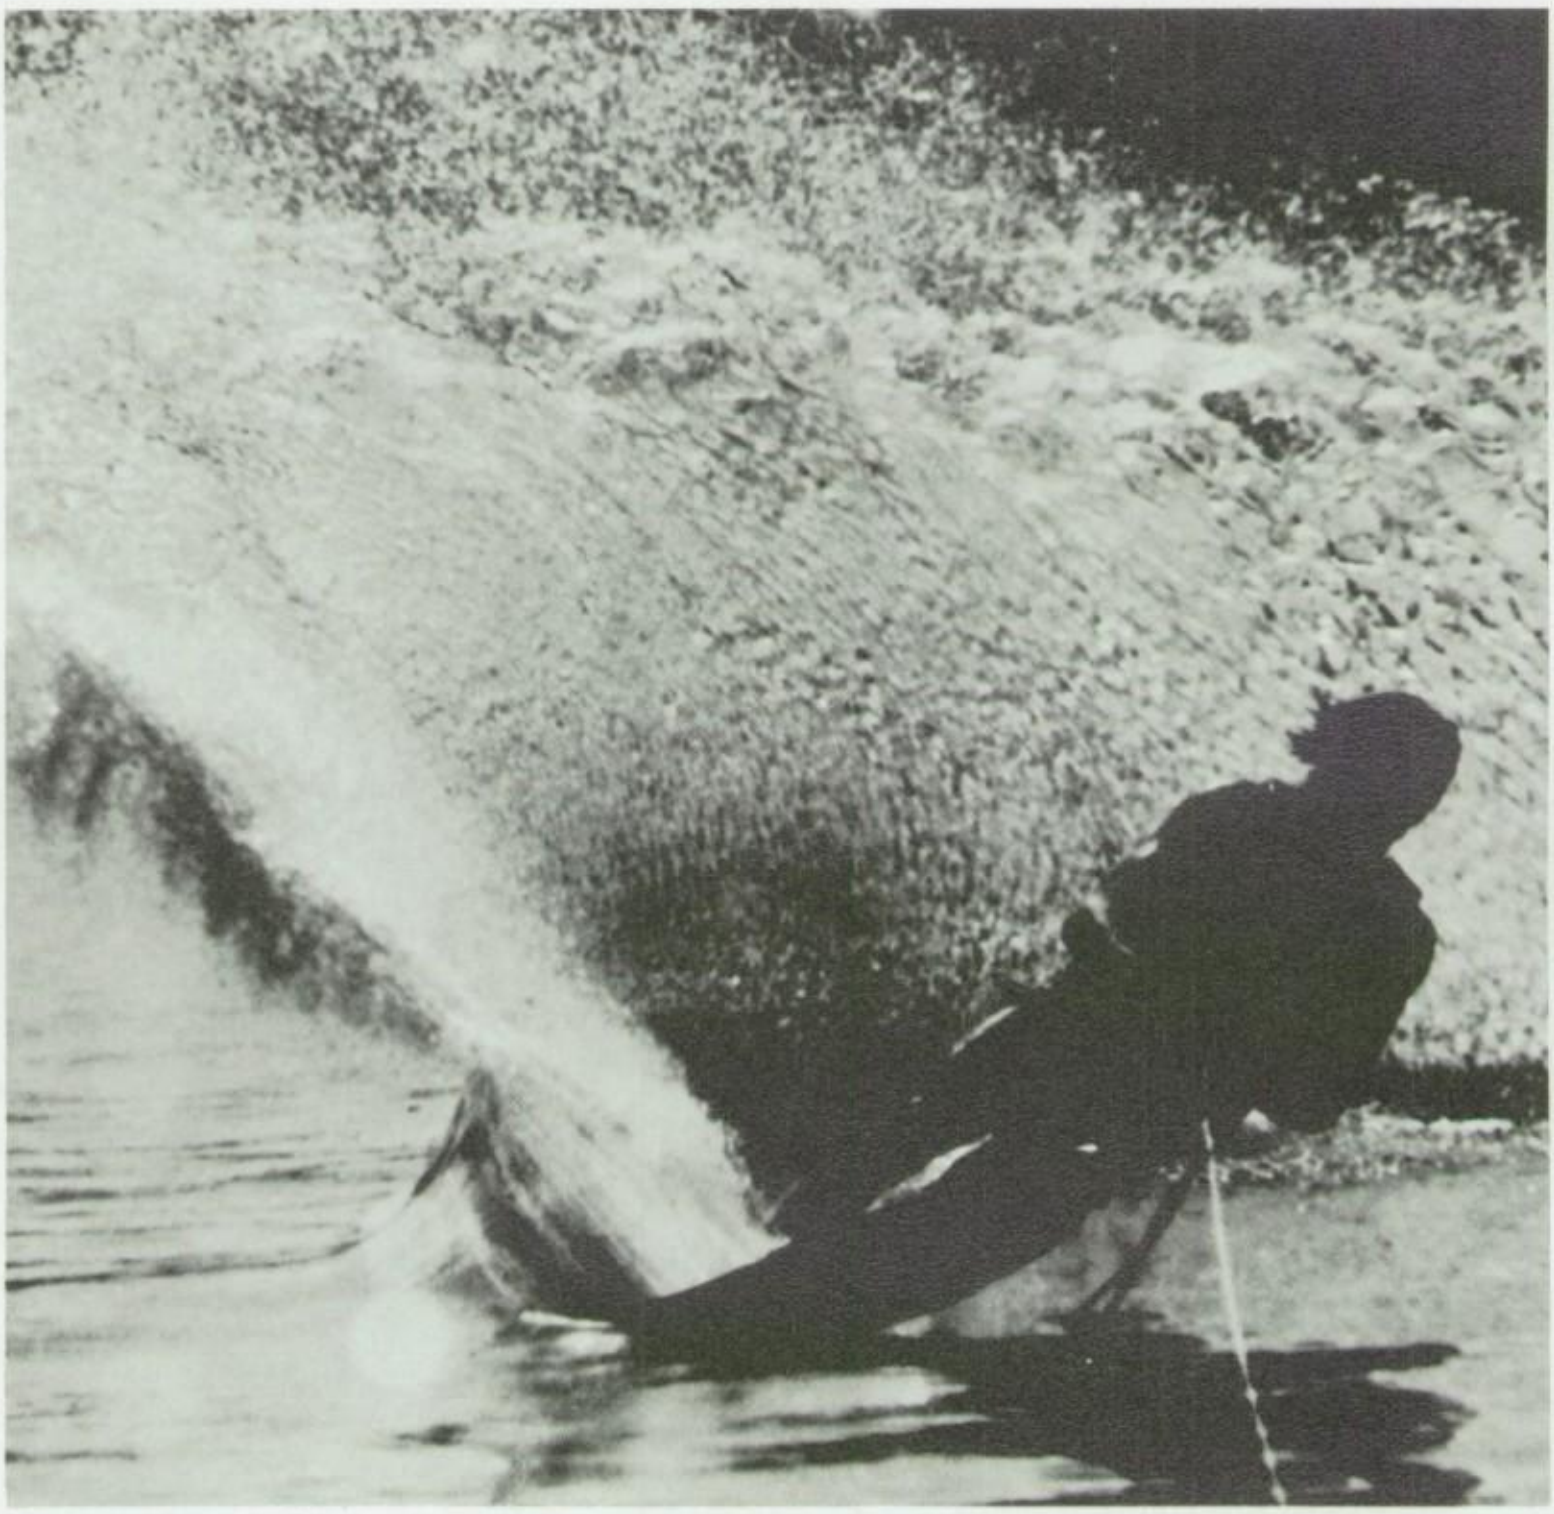
-Herbert Bitterman-

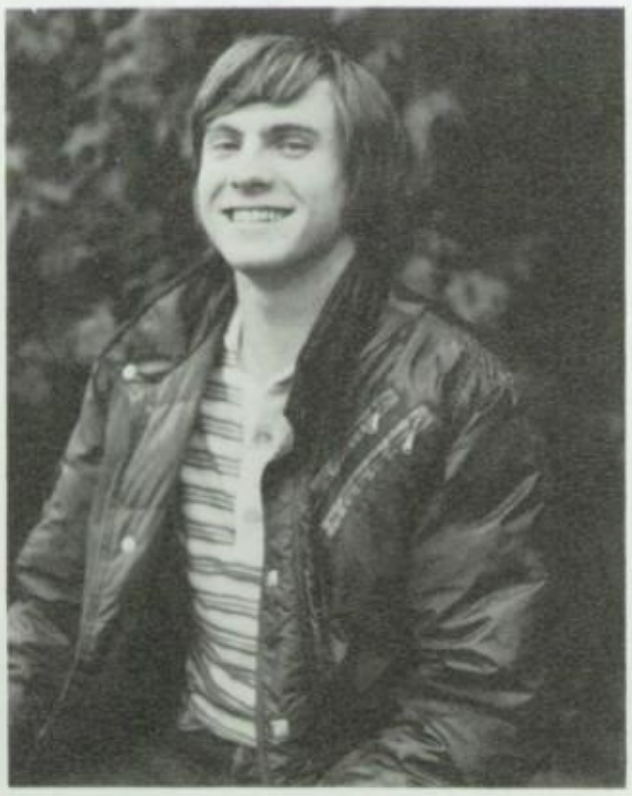
LEAH HEILPERN

Turn me loose from your hands
Let me fly to distant lands
Over green fields, trees and mountains,
Flowers and forest fountains,
Homes along the lanes of the skyway.

-Bernie Taupin-

Helen Anderson





So ride in the line shake yourself by the hand
Live your life inside a paper can
But you'll never get to pick and choose
She's bought you and sold you
There ain't no shoestrings on Louise.

Come one down, come on down from the ladder
Henry get your head out of the clouds
What she wants is to go kissing on a swine head
You might as well kiss the boss man's cow.

-Ralph Waldo Emerson-

Lynn Christensen

Far better it is to dare mighty things, to win glorius triumphs, even though checkered with failure, than to take rank with those poor spirits who neither enjoy much nor suffer much, because they live in the grey twilight that knows not victory nor defeat.

-Theodore Roosevelt-

Sue Hegland

The most important thing is that you're you and I'm me and we can be friends because of it.

Janna Fickenwirth

Everybody's talkin' at me
Can't hear a word they're sayin'
Only the echoes of my mind.
People stoppin' starin'
I can't see their faces
Only the shadows of their eyes.
I'm going where the sun keeps shining
Through the pourin' rain
Going where the weather suits my clothes
Bankin' off a Northeast wind
Sailing on a summer breeze
Skippin' over the ocean like a stone.

If we git the notion to spend the money we got on lots of fancy things we sure would be happy. Funny thing, though, I've been fixing to buy a new fishing pole. That's all the money I got. But we can sell the crawdaddies we catch and buy a radio or something like that.

Alice Flanagan

No, I'd rather sing to myself.

-A.F.-

They tell me there are leucocytes in my blood, and carbon and sodium in my flesh. I thank them for the information, and tell them that there are black beetles in my kitchen, washing soda in my laundry, and coal in my cellar. I do not deny their existence; but I keep them in their proper places.

-George Bernard Shaw-

During life we travel many pathways, often long and never ending. They still exist even when we are gone. On these paths we will be tempered by hardships, sadness, joy. The result will be individual lifestyles reflecting each person's uniqueness.
